ASK MADGE

by Madge Greenfart
Hi tinkles...swimming pools open in a month!
I'm damp with excitement!
It's been fix-up time
in our area...

The RICH KING'S are putting the finishing touches on their living room, with the order of some new brass, wood and glass tables.

ANDI WILEY is winding up work on her room with a montage of Wiley pictures I'm told, while hubby JIMBO has put up the lovely screen house
on Beezer acres.

What infamous west suburban jurist is finally getting his roof fixed?
And I'm not talking about a toupee, honey. It's

Madgie's own JIM GILLESPIE FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE STAR;

Meantime, the GORSKI'S report all their furniture is gone from their recent sale...now it's fixup time in earnest in the living and dining rooms.

Giant geologist JERRY
KRAMER told my sources
he's getting used to living alone for the first time ever. If you get lonely Jer, just give Madgie a jingle!

ALAN PETERS actually used a power tool and didn't electrocute himself! The Peter-man made some holes in a new piece of furniture he and Deborah purchased, and nothing was damaged. Mr Fixit!

FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE STAR;

—Brian Davis was feted at Miomir's in a wild scene that left participants who came from miles around in a state resembling that of sotted jelly. Davis, recently hired as on-air talent for Mutual radio WCFL, threatened to emulate
the Russian dancer and jump up on the table. Mary Gannon even danced with Miorir himself. And Newsnurse Anna Lachat vowed that she would treat her patients with but one remedy: a specialty of Miorir's house: flaming slávovice! Indeed, a good time was had by all...

—A STAR notable reported from Edmonton, Sask, that he had seen gray-uniformed and red-bereted

CHICAGO—It was at about 12:30 last Thursday afternoon that Jerry Farber left his office at Chicago General Co at 1925 S Michigan to go out to lunch. It was also about at that time that a parking lot attendant
noted Farber's 1977 Olds Cutlass leaving the lot.
The trouble is that Farbs
wasn't driving it.

Yes, it's true. The talons of organized crime (Chicago police called it a professional job) reached out and touched STAR notable Farber this week, carrying off his car in broad daylight.

It was at 5:45 am the next day that Chicago police called Farber at his Wilmette home to report that his car had been found...stripped... in the 200 block of east 71st street. It's a good thing that Farber had told the police they could tow it if they found it. Because he certainly couldn't drive
it away after it was found...and there's a good deal of doubt about whether he could push it either. It was stripped bare, so bare that even his insurance company declared it a total loss.

So Farbs is now in the market for a new vehicle, and word has it that his brother is trying to get Jerry bxx to buy a Volkswagen GTI.
But Farbs' search is continuing...

CALL HER A WOMAN TO SHOW RESPECT

Girl, lady, or woman...does it matter what you call her?

A UCLA study of college students and workers at a hi-tech firm shows it certainly does!

The basic finding: girls aren't to be taken seriously; ladies are low-status or unfamiliar.

Girls are the most dependent and least sexy. They're also lazier and less considerate than either women or ladies. There appears no redeeming feature that would make a woman prefer to be called a girl.

While lady draws the highest ratings in theory on beauty and popularity, in practice the term is reserved for unfamiliar, low-status women. The typical lady is weaker, less sexy, less intelligent, and less a leader than the typical women.

Woman captures the lion's share of favorable votes, and is also used in practice for the most respect-worthy woman.

Women are more likely than men to use term woman; men are more apt to refer to ladies. (UCLA, USA TODAY)

DOWN AND DIRTY SEX?

Women of the 80's want their sex a little less romantic and more raunchy to maintain their "psychological freedom."

New York shrink Sully Blotnick (for real name!) says, "What women want sex to provide is the same sense of physical release they'd get by going to the gym."

"What's happened since the 70's is that it's become ruanchier: women deliberately cast the sex in a pornographic light, reducing it to its physical dimension. This way they're able to maintain their psychological freedom, rather than let the bed become a trap." (SUCCESS MAGAZINE)

PAY INEQUITY STILL A PROBLEM, BUT....

On average, women still earn only 64% of men's wages, and because of that, more women are breaking away from the system and making more money by going into business for themselves!

Most women entering the labor force are now going into male-dominated fields and manytimes earn more than their male counterparts. Female law professors earn 25% more than the average man; and women petroleum engineers earn 16% more.

However, traditional "women's work" pays less, if you're a woman. Male secretaries average 33% more than women.

It appears the best way to "break out" is head for the male dominated professions. (WORKING WOMEN MAGAZINE)

WOMEN HAVE FLAIR FOR FLIRTING

A 5-year study shows when it comes to flirting, women make the first move, and control how far the flirtation goes.

At least 2-thirds of the time, women make the first approach thru eye and body language.

Women like to take it slow and easy, with the courtship sequence...approach, talk, touch, lasting up to 3 hours.

In the end, one of five women wind-up asking the man for a date.

(SEX SIGNALS: THE BIOLOGY OF LOVE by Timothy Perper)

JUST WHAT, NOT WHY:

9 of 10 women say they look better with clothes than without.

At the current rate women are elected, Congress will be half female in 410 years.

Women head 90% of one-parent households.

The predicted age for the onset of a major depression in women born in the 1930s is around 50. For women born since 1950, the age is 30.

The highest earnings to date of any tennis player, male or female, is $8.5 million, Martina Navratilova's winnings.

25% of science and engineering degrees are now earned by women, compared to 13% in 1979.

The average new investor in the stock market is a 34-year old married woman investing $2,000.

In 1979, marital rape was illegal in 5 states, no it's at least 23.

The most popular form of birth control among married couples is sterilization.

The average length of sexual intercourse is 2 minutes and 9 seconds.

(GLAMOUR)

IT'S NOW ILLEGAL...

If you work in Grand Rapids, Michigan city hall, you can no longer call a co-worker "dearie" or "honey." And girls, you can't call a man "hunk!"

POOT PRINTS ON THE SHORTS OF TIME

“How scared was I? Only the laundryman knows for sure,” as the reluctant hero acknowledged. Indeed, an involuntary relaxation of the sphincter is one instinctual symptom of fear; the resulting release of flatus being, perhaps, a defense mechanism (like the squid’s ink or the skunk’s stench), the result of centuries of evolution and adaptation. It is also an entirely separate and distinct category of the fart range, having nothing to do with the scent and everything to do with the telltale traces:

BABY TALK

Infant flatulence is cute. And, if frequent, prevents colic. Over the years, mommies have created some charming euphemisms for their darlings' efforts, such as:

boom-booms
fluffs
heinie-burps
pioneers
shooting bunnies
gas bunnies
poops

Who farts? "Everybody," sez perky TV star Donna Reed.

PLAYOFFS: WICHITA SWEEPS HATTIESBURG!
TBA AGOG AT UPSSET VICTORY!

By Ralston Arena, Sportswriter Plenipotentiary and Grand Whizzer Poobah to the STAR

Curmudgeonly Coach Clyde C Netzley has been a perennial fixture in the TBA. So when his maiden year Wichita Wings staggered to a 13-12 season finish and the last playoff berth, the perfunctory "Atta-boys" were issued to Netzley, and the Wings promptly written off. After all, they'd just lost the services of one of their starting guards, ~~Donny Smith~~ and it wasn't so much a case of clinching a playoff berth as clinging to it. Everyone knew that the Wings were a sure-bet 3-game loser; the savage ~~XXXX~~ Hattiesburg Heretics, finishing 19-6, were the designated Wing-killers.

However, someone must have forgotten to ~~xxxx~~ tell the Wings of their fate. On the Klansmen's home court the Wings became birds of prey, making a shambles of the vaunted 'Tics defense as they outscored the Nazi Fascist Horde in every stanza. Pepe Bell's 2nd quarter 12-point 7 minute fast-breaking extravaganza propelled the Wings to a 60-48 halftime lead. Gilford Gorker fouled out as time expired in the 3rd, but his Wings outgunned the 'Tics by 6, opening a 95-77 lead. When Warren Dunes fouled out early in the 4th, Wichita soared to a 122-203 victory as stunned Biker fans stared in disbelief. Bell led all scorers with 34; Moroz hit 25 and Wun Fat Kow snared 15 boards.

In Game Two, Pepe Bells clutch hoops in the final minute proved to be the difference as the Wings too the game 109-103.

In game three, rookie Sam Juan Hill tallied 35 and grabbed 11 rebounds as he guided the franchise to a 104-87 series sweep.

"I knew it would be an unusual series" Netzley told reporters "when Sundberg showed up for practice wearing a quarter inch galvanized steel link chain for a necklace"

STAR RACKETBALLERS LOSE IN A LAUGHER!

by Joe de la Strappe

LOMBARD—Claudia Welnicki and teammate Ron Gorski met their match in a pair of 50-year-olds who took them to the mat in the semi-finals of the B-C mixed doubles at the Glass Court in-house racketball tournament here.

Rose and Jim Stoll won the tie-breaker 11-9 after the two teams split the first two games by the same scores of 15-13.

"I was sore for 3 days. I didn't realize how hard we played until I tried to get out of bed the next day," noted a hobbling Gorkster. "We played 3 games in an hour and a half. That's really tough stuff. Everybody on the court felt good though. ~~xxxx~~ We must have put on a good show. When it was over, we got a great round of applause from the crowd. Win, lose, or draw, it was a fun match."

The Welnicki/Gorski team lost literally on a laughter. "It was the last point, and during a timeout, Claudia told me she was really tired. So we go back out on the court and she receives the serve. It was really a nice drive, low, and to her forehand corner. She did a great job of digging and returned it about two inches off the floor. But in hustling, she lost her balance and landed on her heinie. All this stuff about her being tired raced through my mind and I started to laugh, wondering if she'd ever get up! I was running around the court laughing, and she was sprawled out on the floor. She started laughing too, and I could hardly control myself. I smashed it right back at Jim, and all he did was stick out his raked for a kill. I could have died," said Ronnie.
